you who, in Whitman's words, have taught me how "to listen to all sides and filter them from myself." It is you who have taught me to trust who we are and what we do together on the radio, to depend on your collective genius. It is you who have brought me into the company of strangers I now have the great privilege to call my friends.

Annual Santa Call-In this Friday on Larry Meiller

Santa Claus returns to WPR airwaves this Friday for his annual interview and call-in show with Larry Meiller. It isn't easy to schedule an interview with Santa, especially so close to Christmas, but according to Meiller, working with the famous philanthropist is a joy. "I love working with Santa because he never seems to have a bad day. He and his elf have a lot on their plates, but they are still happy to take calls and talk with Wisconsin's children," noted Meiller.

Signs of Santa magically appear at this time each year in Larry Meiller's studio at WPR.

Meiller has been hosting a daily talk show on WPR for more than 35 years. Most days, the callers to his show are adults asking questions about environmental and consumer issues, gardening and helpful "how-to" topics, but this Friday, the show is focused on children.

Kids can call and talk to Santa by dialing 1-800-642-1234 during the live broadcast, Friday, December 23 from 11am to 12:30pm on the Ideas Network.

Watch WPR on Wisconsin Public Television

If you've ever wondered what Wisconsin Public Radio looks like, here's a rare opportunity to watch us work, thanks to our friends at Wisconsin Public Television (WPT). This September, WPT video-taped two WPR productions at the first Wisconsin Science Festival on

Thanks to WPT, you can watch members of University Theater perform H.G. Wells' Time Machine, originally broadcast on WPR, and a

The American flag has been put away. President Obama says all combat forces will be out by December 31.

Now, through the end of the year, WPR's To the Best of Our Knowledge is bringing you the voices of people who have served in Iraq over the past eight years.
